I. INTRODUCTION

The individuals, belonging to all communities, categories and socio-economic backgrounds have one of the major goals of leading to up-gradation of overall living conditions. In order to achieve this goal, they are to recognize the significance of socialization. One needs to put emphasis on forming an effective social circle, comprising of family members, relatives, friends, neighbors, educators, employers, classmates, colleagues, and service providers (Keim, 2018) [1].

The communication processes are to be implemented in an effective manner. These are facilitating in augmenting knowledge and understanding in terms of various aspects; exchanging different types of ideas and viewpoints; obtaining answers to all types of questions that are overwhelming and clarifying doubts in terms of various types of subjects and concepts. Furthermore, one needs to be well-informed in terms of communication ethics, i.e. making use of polite language and decent words; treating others with respect and courtesy; making provision of factual information; depicting the traits of helpfulness and co-operation and possessing an approachable nature and an amiable attitude. Therefore, it is well-understood, as a consequence, of implementing effective communication processes, one will contribute in reinforcing socialization.

Within personal and professional lives of the individuals, they do experience situations, which enable them to experience the psychological problems of anger, stress, anxiety, frustration and depression. The influence of various types of psychological problems is experienced in a major or minor form. Hence, one needs to cope with these in an effective manner in reinforcing socialization (Kumar, 2014) [2]. When the individuals experience these problems, they are required to augment information in terms of strategies of coping with these in a satisfactory manner. All types of strategies are to be implemented in a well-organized and regimented manner. As a consequence, one will render an important contribution in reinforcing contacts within and outside the homes. Furthermore, one will promote a normal mind-set. Hence, it is well-understood that coping with psychological problems and promoting a normal mind-set is facilitating in reinforcing socialization. Therefore, throughout the lives of the individuals, they need to acknowledge and implement factors, which are facilitating in coping with various types of psychological problems in an effective manner.

A. Understanding the Meaning and Significance of Socialization

Therefore, an understanding of the meaning and significance of socialization is acquired, when traits of diligence, resourcefulness and conscientiousness are implemented.

B. Measures to be Put into Operation in Reinforcing Socialization

The individuals are different from each other in terms of number of factors, i.e. castes, creeds, races, religions, ethnicities, genders, age groups, personality traits, cultures, educational qualifications, occupations, communities and socio-economic backgrounds. In spite of these differences, one common aspect that all individuals are required to put into operation is reinforcing socialization. This is regarded as an integral part of the personal and professional lives of the individuals. The main reason being, all individuals understand that introversion and seclusion are unfavorable on the overall personality traits and living conditions. Hence, it is of utmost significance for all individuals to reinforce socialization. This is necessary within and outside the homes (Language and Communication: They are Two Different Things, 2018) [3].

From the stage of early childhood, throughout the lives of the individuals, they are required to augment information in terms of various types of measures to be put into operation in reinforcing socialization. All types of measures are to be implemented in a well-ordered and disciplined manner. In other words, positivity needs to be reinforced in all types of measures. The family members, educators, supervisors and employers are the individuals, who impart information in terms of meaning and significance of socialization. Therefore, measures to be put into operation in reinforcing socialization are stated as follows:

II. IMPLEMENTING EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION PROCESSES

The communication processes are to be implemented in an effective manner in reinforcing socialization. These are facilitating in augmenting knowledge and understanding in terms of various aspects; exchanging different types of ideas and viewpoints; obtaining answers to all types of questions that are
